

Langley Family Law

Langley Family Law - Family breakups could lead to a lot of emotional stress for everybody involved. Family law in this country comprises numerous different pieces of legislation. Our family law lawyer would navigate the difficulties of family law for you, and help you to be able to comprehend the relevant legislation as it applies to your specific case.

Our goal is to reach amicable solutions while avoiding the high expenses connected with the court process. Though, occasionally negotiations do not achieve the desired result. If it becomes needed, we will help you during each and every stage of the court process to attain the best possible outcome.

Our services extend into the areas connected to the preparation of marriage contracts and cohabitation agreements, divorce (uncontested or contested), negotiation and preparation of separation agreements, and resolution of problems about property division, custody, access, child and spousal support.