

Langley Labour Lawyer

Langley Labour Lawyer - Did your employer dismiss you? Was reasonable notice given? Did your employer treat you fairly or were you wrongfully fired? Is the severance package they gave just or do you deserve more? If you do not sign off on it, what would happen?

Numerous difficult challenges and questions arise, when your position at a business has been terminated. The idea of being out of work for whichever length of time could be stressful and could be rather intimidating. It is important that you know all your rights to make certain that you are receiving fair compensation from your previous employer. The lawyers working for our company are knowledgeable negotiators who will actually fight for what you are legally entitled to. If needed, they would begin legal procedures.

Representation and advice are available for a few cases, like for instance constructive dismissal, non disclosure agreements, non competition and confidentiality agreements, wrongful dismissal and severance, employment contracts and fiduciary duties. Our layers are skilled at determining the fairness of a severance package and would make certain that you get what you are entitled to. Furthermore, our firm even provides advice to supervisors on post and pre employment cases.
