

Law Firms in Langley

Law Firms in Langley - To protect our clients assets is the basis of our Tax Team, by performing structuring of business transactions, domestic and international tax planning, and litigating tax disputes. We have really renowned lawyers recognized both domestically and internationally for their innovations in international and domestic tax planning. We are recognized for the innovative use of corporations, trusts, partnerships, joint ventures and various vehicles. Our Tax Team is regularly requested by other law offices in addition to accounting offices seeking our specialized skill for their clients.

We can assist our clients about the advantages of all types' transactions and our lawyers work together with our company's Corporate Finance and Corporate/Commercial Groups. This enables us to produce the most positive tax consequences possible throughout business arrangements, transactions and strategies.

We utilize the several taxation agencies which we have built superb relationships to allow us to successfully represent clients in areas of needing advance tax ruling, promoting legislative change, and negotiating and disputing the settlement of tax reassessments. In circumstances where tax disagreements can't be settled, our Tax Team litigators represent clients before all levels of the courts.
