

Lawyers in Langley

Lawyers in Langley - Tax law is involved in an astonishingly huge amount of daily activities and are in practically each and every day-to-day transaction involving money. Usually, there is just cause to break a deal on the way the tax laws are implicated in a partnership or merger. Utilizing their resourcefulness and knowledge, our lawyers could often turn what was a deal breaker into a deal maker. We make certain that up-to-date tax suggestion is provided in both commercial and corporate transactions by communicating along with our colleagues in different practices of law. We have a wide range of clients, from high net worth individuals to all levels of international corporations and governments.

Our tax litigators are capable of handling a variety of tax disputes and do so efficiently and cost-effectively. We make sure our lawyers are well rounded by ensuring their backgrounds are comprised of both tax and litigation. Our chartered accountants and lawyers have worked for the provincial tax departments along with the federal Department of Justice. We would rather attain ideal resolutions quickly, but when needed our lawyers are fully capable of representing our clients in court.