

Langley Bankruptcy

Langley Bankruptcy - During the last couple of decades, our firm has offered recommendation on all aspects of bankruptcy law, comprising creditor's remedies, reorganizations and restructuring as well as commercial litigation. Our profile is highly regarded internationally, and as such a large percentage of our clients is internationally based. Much of our business regards cross-border insolvencies and restructuring between Canada and America. We are knowledgeable in various matters because of our numerous domestic relationships along with other lenders and professionals. Our knowledge includes working with commercial and financial groups, domestic and international financial institutions, receivers, creditor's committees, trustees, investors, acquirers and debtors in insolvencies and reorganizations.

Members of our practice helped develop the system of Canadian cross-border insolvency. Moreover, the federal and local government takes into consideration when amending the Canadian laws including international trades. We are satisfied to be active members of several international insolvency organizations.
