If you have been hurt caused by a medical error, you may be entitled to damages. Errors made by doctors of medicine, nurses, or various health care practitioners, that cause injury, may entitle you to compensation for "general damages," likewise referred to as pain and suffering. If you undergo loss of income and ability to earn income due to your injuries, you can be entitled to compensation. Other kinds of compensation consist of housekeeping and home maintenance expenses, and health care costs not covered by your medical insurance.

Slip and Fall

If you experience a slip and fall incident, you can be entitled to compensation. Your entitlement to compensation would normally depend upon the situation of your fall. This may include loss of ability to earn income and loss of income, "general damages," housekeeping and home maintenance expenses, and health care expenses over and above those covered under your medical insurance. If the person causing the injury has an insurance policy that can be accessed on your behalf, it is vital that legal assistance is sought early to avoid limitation period problems.

There are numerous types of injury which can occur as a result of other's negligence, like assault, wrongful death, and injury sustained on premises owned by others. The losses that victims undergo could effect their lives and deserve compensation.
