

Langley Accident Lawyer

Langley Accident Lawyer - Our Intellectual Property (IP) Team knows the importance and value of your intellectual property. To help you protect and license your intellectual property, we provide different legal services connected to trademarks, trade secrets, industrial designs and copyright. Our clients are those involved in the creation, licensing, use, acquisition and protection of intellectual property. Our IP lawyers have various years of experience securing patent, trademark, industrial design and copyright registrations globally and domestically. We are experienced at enforcing your intellectual property rights.

Our Patent assistance include: prosecution, preparation and filing of patent applications; prior art searching; licensing and assignments; enforcement.

We likewise offer advice and services for Trademarks consisting of: opinions and searching relating to registration of design, word, certification or public official marks and distinguishing guises; filing and preparation of applications for registration; licensing, assignment and franchising agreements; opposition procedures before the Trade-mark Opposition Board; passing-off opinions and infringements; renewals and expungement (removal) applications; trademark enforcement and defense.

For some Copyright issues, we provide searching; licensing of literary (including software), musical and dramatic works; prosecution, preparation and filing of applications for registration; infringement opinions; assignment and sale of copyright and copyright protected works; copyright enforcement and defense.

We help preserve your organization's competitive advantage through the protection of Trade Secrets. We draft agreements and create programs for the protection of confidential data.

For Industrial Designs we offer searching and availability opinions; assignment and licensing; preparation, filing and prosecution of applications for registration.

We have many clients from a variety of trades including entertainment, agriculture, manufacturing, hotels, travel and technology.