

Impaired Driving Langley

Impaired Driving Langley - Patents are normally the most valuable assets that a business can have. It is essential that the patent portfolio is maintained and secured to make certain that the company is able to continue to expand and even succeed.

We have one of the largest and most well respected patent teams with extensive skill in procuring patents and protecting them. Additionally, we can help our clients in leveraging patent matters with efficiency and skill.

Our team consists of a variety of different professionals, such as technical consultants, patent lawyers and patent agents. Some of our technical consultants have a Ph.D in either a scientific or engineering discipline. Some examples of the areas in which we have skill are chemical, aerospace, biomedical, civil, electrical, computer science, industrial, metallurgy and material science, mechanical, biochemistry, biomechanics, biotechnology, chemistry, food science, endocrinology, genetics, immunology, life sciences, microbiology, neuropsychology, molecular/cellular biology, neurophysiology, pharmacology, organic chemistry, physics, toxicology, and physiology.

The combination of acute business acumen together with our extensive variety of technical skills allows us to be able to provide a comprehensive understanding of an assortment of technical complexities. Our expertise and experience allows our clients to achieve optimal patent asset value. We are here to provide valuable suggestion and help regarding licensing agreements and the negotiation of technology transfer as well as the enforcement of intellectual property rights.
